Senior Cortni Hauck Represents Michigan

Cortni Hauck, a Beal City High School senior, was selected with 24 other students from around the State, to represent Michigan at the Youth Conference on National Affairs (C.O.N.A.). Cortni first traveled to Washington D.C. where she spent a week touring our nation's monuments such as the Lincoln Memorial, the WWII Memorial, the Vietnam Veterans Memorial, and her favorite, the Korean War Veterans Memorial. Cortni also visited the Pentagon, the Capital, and the Supreme Court Building. Cortni and the C.O.N.A. group happened to be at the Supreme Court Building when the Riley vs. California decision was announced, declaring police need a warrant to read or search cell phones. Senator Carl Levin met with the C.O.N.A. delegates in D.C. and discussed current legislation, his committee work, and heard ideas and answered questions from the students.

Cortni spent the second week of her trip in Black Mountain, North Carolina. There students discussed and debated proposals of national and international interest which had been written by the participants prior to their trip. During the conference at "the mountain" as it is called, students were challenged in intensive debate with delegates from all over the country. This rare opportunity allows the nation's youth to learn about democracy and compromise in an authentic way. According to Cortni, her experience was "life changing."

Grand Marshall Nominations Needed

The Beal City Student Council is accepting nominations for this year's Homecoming Grand Marshall. Please submit their name and a brief explanation telling us why you believe this person should be our 2014 Grand Marshall. Nominations should be sent to Kelly Schafer at kschafer@bealcityschools.net or Lauri Hovey at lhovey@bealcityschools.net. The homecoming parade will be Friday October 10, 2014 at 4:00 p.m.

Student Council Sells T-shirts for a Good Cause

Each year the Beal City Student Council sells t-shirts for homecoming as a fundraiser for a specific charity. This year's organization is The Pardee Cancer Treatment Fund of Isabella County. This organization accepts private donations to help support local families whom are affected by cancer.

To receive anonymous donations each family must have a member who has been diagnosed with cancer, demonstrates financial needs, and has been a member of Isabella County for at least one year, as well as other requirements.

The t-shirt design is created by Student Council. Each class will have a different color t-shirt with Junior High having one color and elementary having another. Half of the profits go to the organization and the other half go back into Student Council to support next year's homecoming. Order forms will be sent home with students. They will also be available in the Superintendent's Office or can be printed from the school's website at www.bealcityschools.net.

We Need YOU!

Would you like to make a difference in your child's school? Well, here's how!

Every year, your family receives a Free and Reduced Price Meal Application. It is important to fill out this form and return it to school for two reasons:

1. The application lets us know if your child is eligible for free or reduced price school meals. Children from families that earn below a certain income level can receive free or reduced price lunch and breakfast at school.
2. Applications are used to match funding our school receives for resources for students such as books and classroom furniture.

The application is easy to fill out and easy to understand. Also, you do not have to worry about your information being shared with others because application information is CONFIDENTIAL.

Support the School Breakfast Program today by completing your application! If you have any questions, feel free to contact Marci Faber 989-644-3901 or mfaber@bealcityschools.net.

"THE MOST WORTHY SHALL RECEIVE THE PRIZE, WHETHER HE BE SCANDINAVIAN OR NOT" - ALFRED NOBEL

Much like the 2012-13 school year, the Beal City Bands will have a theme for the year in terms of music and co-curricular content. We will be exploring the European region of Scandinavia. Home of the Vikings, Danish modern furniture, the Nobel Prize, exquisite crystal, Hans Christian Andersen and a variety of other wonderful traditions, we will look to dive into those as well as music inspired by the region or written by Scandinavian composers. Students will want to find their ski sweaters as well for the end of January when we will hold a traditional Smorgasbord - a buffet of traditional Scandinavian food and drink (much like our well-received English Tea). Students will be encouraged to wear their best heavy sweater as Scandinavians do in the winter months. Looking forward to making this a fun year-long event!

BEGINNING BAND... BEGINS!

During the last week of August, Mr. Cote from Marshall Music was fitting 8th grader with band instruments! First day for Beginning Band will be Monday, September 8. Bring your instrument if you have it; if not, come and find out about the fun!

Boost Bus Safety

Get your child on board with school bus safety! To avoid dangerous situations and accidents, students must follow bus safety rules and procedures. First, review your school's specific bus rules and procedures with your children. Then, make sure they understand these general bus safety principles.

Board the bus safely. Students should walk, not run, to the bus stop. While waiting for the bus, children should stay in a safe spot away from the road. Remind your child never to speak to strangers at the bus stop. When the bus arrives, students should wait their turn to board and never push or shove on the stairs. Students should ask the driver for help if they drop something while getting on or off the school bus.

Follow the driver's rules. Explain to your child that drivers have to focus on the road to keep students safe. Distracting the driver, even for a second, could put all the riders in danger. Remind students to treat drivers with respect, and always follow printed rules or the driver's procedures—especially in case of an emergency.

Keep the bus calm and quiet. Students should find a seat quickly and stay in it. Many schools have a code of conduct for the bus—go over it with your child to make sure he or she understands the behaviors that are acceptable and unacceptable. Behaviors that might seem “cool” (waving one's arms out the window, for instance) can put your child's, and other children's, safety at risk. Enforce tough punishment if your child exhibits bad bus behavior. Students should never throw things on the bus or out the windows, or play with emergency exits. Make sure students know to use their “inside voices,” and never play loud music on the bus.

Watch for bullies. Alert the bus driver if students on the bus are harassing your child. School bus drivers are not counselors, but they are there to transport students safely. You can work with them to find a solution to problems.

Avoid the “danger zone.” Children should wait for the bus to come to a complete stop before getting off, and use the handrails. When crossing in front of the bus, children should take five giant steps away from the bus, make eye contact with the driver, and cross when the driver indicates that it's safe. Teach your child to look both ways before crossing, and to stay away from the wheels of the bus.

Listen and report. Remind your child to tell you if they notice something odd or unsafe on the bus, such as the driver seeming impaired or students bullying one another. If your child tells you about any inappropriate behavior, speak to your principal.

Web Resources

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration has a bus safety pledge students can take.

Visit SafeKids.org for factsheets on bus accidents and safety statistics.

Your state's Department of Transportation website may have state-specific guidelines or activities related to bus safety.

SKILLS FOR SUCCESS

Research shows most successful students network with teachers, actively engage and get involved in some type of organization, and utilize resources available to them like tutoring and following five simple steps:

1. Get to class on time
2. Be prepared for class
3. Participate in class
4. Turn work in on-time
5. Study when not in school

Time management is a huge part of being successful. Being organized can lead to more efficient production.

For instance:

- A. Create a weekly plan on a calendar
- B. Organize your activities using a daily list
- C. Prioritize what should be completed first and get it done
- D. Do not procrastinate
 1. Consequences of procrastinating = Impact on other priorities / Lower grades / Stress & Anxiety
 2. Rewards of not procrastinating = Lower Stress & Anxiety / Time to do more of what you enjoy / Better grades

How to manage test anxiety:

- Be prepared – Don't leave studying until the night before. Studying and reviewing everyday will help you learn and remember the material easily. Also, talking with your teacher will help you determine the best way to focus and learn the material.
- Use a Routine – Whether it is doing the test backwards, writing the essay first, or looking through the test completely, divide your time adequately, do all the questions you know first. Do what works for you!
- Avoid downers – “There is too much material to learn”, “The questions are too hard”, “The teacher never gives A's” Make decisions with an open mind.
- Don't Cheat – Spend your time preparing and actually learning the material.
- Find ways to relieve stress – School is a fact of life, so prepare and work hard. Exercise, Meditate, Take study breaks, and make learning fun!

What type of learner are you?

- VISUAL = Learns best using maps, diagrams, charts, graphs, flow charts, etc. Does not include movies, videos, or PowerPoint. They use designs, patterns and shapes to help highlight and convey information.
- MULTI-MODAL = Learners who do not have a standout mode with one preference above another. These students prefer different options in how they give and receive information (they need differentiated instruction).
- AUDITORY = Learns best receiving information that is heard or spoken. Students like lectures, tutorials, tapes, group discussion, email, web chats, etc. Includes talking out loud and or talking to self. Students often want to sort things out by speaking.
- KINESTHETIC = Learns best by moving, doing, and touching. Students may like to take notes for the sake of doing something. They may use color highlighters and take notes by drawing pictures, diagrams and doodling. They may find it difficult to sit still for long periods of time.
- READING / WRITING = Learns best when information is displayed as words. Strongly used in college. Emphasizes text-based input and output. These people love lists, PowerPoint, Internet, Dictionaries, Quotations, etc.

Master studying by studying smarter, not harder.

1. Be active. Ask yourself questions, review your notes regularly and discuss key concepts with peers and/or your teacher.
2. Find a study location with characteristics you prefer (e.g. music, friends, temperature, food, etc.)
3. Study in chunks. Focus for 30-50 minute periods followed by a short 5-10 minute break.

MY CHILD'S ACADEMIC SUCCESS

Homework Tips for Parents

- Make sure your child has a quiet, well-lit place to do homework.
Avoid having your child do homework with the television on or in places with other distractions, such as people coming and going.
- Make sure the materials your child needs, such as paper, pencils and a dictionary, are available.
Ask your child if special materials will be needed for some projects and get them in advance.
- Help your child with time management.
Establish a set time each day for doing homework. Don't let your child leave homework until just before bedtime. Think about using a weekend morning or afternoon for working on big projects, especially if the project involves getting together with classmates.
- Be positive about homework.
Tell your child how important school is. The attitude you express about homework will be the attitude your child acquires.
- When your child does homework, you do homework.
Show your child that the skills they are learning are related to things you do as an adult. If your child is reading, you read too. If your child is doing math, balance your checkbook.
- When your child asks for help, provide guidance, not answers.
Giving answers means your child will not learn the material. Too much help teaches your child that when the going gets rough, someone will do the work for him or her.
- When the teacher asks that you play a role in homework, do it.
Cooperate with the teacher. It shows your child that the school and home are a team. Follow the directions given by the teacher.
- If homework is meant to be done by your child alone, stay away.
Too much parent involvement can prevent homework from having some positive effects. Homework is a great way for kids to develop independent, lifelong learning skills.
- Stay informed.
Talk with your child's teacher. Make sure you know the purpose of homework and what your child's class rules are.
- Help your child figure out what is hard homework and what is easy homework.
Have your child do the hard work first. This will mean he will be most alert when facing the biggest challenges. Easy material will seem to go fast when fatigue begins to set in.
- Watch your child for signs of failure and frustration.
Let your child take a short break if she is having trouble keeping her mind on an assignment.
- Reward progress in homework.
If your child has been successful in homework completion and is working hard, celebrate that success with a special event (e.g., pizza, a walk, a trip to the park) to reinforce the positive effort.
